

Environmental Policy

Kanzaki Specialty Papers shares with all Americans important responsibilities concerning the environment and the protection of natural resources, including land, air and water.

In keeping with its history of successful, voluntary efforts in environmental, health and safety stewardship, Kanzaki Specialty Papers reaffirms these commitments in a set of written principles.

- To make environmental, health and safety considerations priorities in operating existing facilities as well as in planning new operations.
- To recognize, in developing and designing products to meet customer needs, the environmental, health and safety effect of product manufacture, distribution, use and disposal.
- To monitor our environment, health and safety performance and to report regularly on these matters to the Board of Directors as well as to confirm our adherence to these principles annually to the American Paper Institute.
- To train employees in their environmental, health and safety responsibilities and to promote awareness and accountability on these matters.
- To improve environmental, health and safety performance through support of research and development that advances the frontiers of knowledge.
- To communicate with employees, customers and suppliers, the community and public officials to build greater understanding on environmental, health and safety matters.
- To participate constructively in the development of public policies on environmental, health and safety matters.
